

Danger in the city

On a very hot day to get out into the park until suddenly the hot day gets cold there is a screaming in the center of the city where I was being terrorized by a very strong villain with the firepower burning the whole city and to fight this the firemen go into action watering the villain to try to fight him preventing the worst from happening, but the villain is not stopped he only becomes weak. After he becomes weak he stops to set fire to the city and explodes the trucks and goes to a place far from the city, so he stays strong he jumps on an erupting volcano that soon after he has immersed himself in the lava he flies with new powers in which one person could defeat him This person would be his older brother than his power and water that his father taught only for him because he was good and his brother already did bad things in the city. The older brother arriving in the city seeing what his brother was doing becomes angry and the two begin to fight going as far as possible so as not to destroy the city anymore. When they get close to the sea they begin to fight for real, the younger brother is at a disadvantage because he has the sea to help his brother. The forest is set on fire, causing the brother who rules the water to put out his brother's fire and put out the fire and defeat him after being defeated and imprisoned. Everything back to normal the town calms down forest back everything as if nothing had happened. Until three years later the volcano in which it was erupting explodes falling four giant rocks falling all in prison and releasing two very powerful villains one of them the old fire villain and the other of shock that come together and destroy everything that lies ahead. On the way to the city there is nothing left for them to bring down the electric power causing the phones not to pick up and have the heroes come and lock them again their plan is to climb at the highest point of the city so that the two join the powers and kill the whole world and release all the villains trapped and arrest all the heroes. But luckily three heroes was passing over the city and heard everyone shouting, the three heroes went to see what was happening. When they went down there to see what was happening they saw the two trying to climb the Eiffel Tower, but the three heroes knocked them down and began to lunge for four whole days the first hero dies in the middle of the fight the villains are already tired and weak and until one of the villains dies leaving the one of fire alone the villain of fire kills the second hero leaving his only his brother. The fire leaves the brother stunned the fire rises to the Eiffel Tower beginning his plan burning everything that is around exploding cars, trucks, buildings and houses. After what happened the hero returns to normal and knocks down the villain again as they begin to fight again, but this time in the city causing him to get closer to the highest point, the villain makes his brother dizzy again and this time the villain almost reaches the point until the tower falls on a bridge overturning the cars and his brother takes advantage and defeats the villain once and for all sending him to a prison.