

The White Snow Judgment

The White Snow Judgment Between the Witness ...
Now, tell me about Dunga is affair. Well, sir, he can not speak.

-Silence Master, he will write his version of the facts. Dunga picked up a magic pencil that turned all writing into speech and began writing on tree leaves:

It all started when Snow White invaded our house, we arrived from work, as always singing the same song, but nobody notices my unhappiness for not knowing how to sing, I prefer not to know, every day the same song, for love, but arriving at home we came across it all tidy, that's why we hate to tidy up, but so far everything is fine, a cleaner every now and then is good, but worse, she put several dirty animals in our house.

-This is a lie, Judge. Snow White screamed, and before she could finish, the judge said, Order one more word and you'll be taken out of this room. And you Dunga can continue please.

Well, the animals might not even be dirty, but they are still wild, where animals have already been enslaved to clean our house, the DAFE, the Protection of the Animals of the Enchanted Forest can arrest her at any moment.

Good boy, Dunga, you may continue, I'm already aware of the crimes committed by Snow White.

We go up to the bedroom, when we came across a giant woman, that's right, everyone thinks we're small, but the rest of the village is overgrown, that's because they're cursed by the Witch.

Dunga walks too much with Angry Mr. Judge, he's already going crazy! -Crazy is your Grandmother! Then said the master, Well, it's Angry, our grandmother, because we're from the same family.

Laughter and more laughter echoed through the woods, which had been quiet, but after this joke, not only did the five dwarfs burst into laughter but all the animals there were laughing, and as usual the judge again asked silence and the Dunga continued writing.

As I had already said, Snow White was sleeping on four beds, it was not mine, luckily, she passed me the Witch spell or that cleaning mania. But on some of the beds there were squirrel is coconuts.

-I protest Snow White screamed, and before she could finish she was once again stopped by the Judge.

-Silence Snow White, and proceed with the facts Dunga But even so Snow White said: That's not a squirrel's coconut, it's a nut, I made a pie with them for you.

- What do you mean, chestnut pie? I prefer apple pie Little did he know that Apples and Snow White did not quite fit together.

I do not know why Happy, but I never liked apples.

Okay, the ice-colored girl, you can be quiet now. Said Angry one more time unpatiently

After all that, Snow White blackmailed us, she made a soup on our stove with our leaves, and she said we could only eat after we bathed, who swims on Friday? Wait for Saturday at least.

This Snow White thinks we're kids, she wants to rule our lives. That's why I never got married. Our Angry One, Atchim, I thought it was because not one of your own, Atchim, a girlfriend would curb your temper.

Pay attention, maybe White can not be let go and live in our house. She spoke happily as she listened to the words of Zangado and Atchim.

I do not know, Dengoso said. If we needed a maid, we'd hired him.

Actually, we work in a diamond mine, we have money to buy a castle, who could hire a maid.

After Master finished speaking, Dunga continued:

So we had to sleep in the kitchen, all because Snow White slept in our beds, and as if that were not enough we had to work in pain the next day.

-Already, Dunga gave, Snow White is entitled to the word? The judge said

-I just want to make it clear that who should be arrested was my stepmother, because I had to flee her

But how did you end up at the Seven Dwarfs house? The judge said, and Snow White answered:

After I ran away from a Hunter who was paid to kill me.

-Or, well, well, you think you can fool me, just like you did with Harry. The Clara de Neve, Egg White this is not a fairy tale here.

Yes, Angry, you believe in Witch but you do not believe in Hunter.

Snow White cried like any other spoiled child who had lived like a princess in the castle for years and more years.

I came across various animals, they took me to your house, where I spent the day cleaning and cooking, and all this for nothing, and now they're condemning me for fixing that mess. Who should have been here in my place, was the Hunter and My Stepmother. It was then that the Judge realized that Snow White had not committed any serious crime.

After Snow White was released, she returned to the House of Seven and her stepmother, also known as Witch, made a potion of beauty, just to keep everything on top, since in the enchanted stories there is no botox and plastic surgery , and with that ended up running away before even being able to poison Snow White with the Apple.

But she, who was not a beast or anything, went after the Prince Charming, who in the original story appears from there I do not know where, who kisses a dead princess, and the best lives in a castle behind the clouds and no one knows his name. Yes, it's true love.

And Snow White without an apple, She did not know his Prince Charming, but continued to live in the house of the Seven, even though some did not worship the presence of so many animals, much less hers.

Author: It was the Angry man that forced me to write that last sentence.