

COOL STORIES

The soccer field one day a teacher gave Thomas and Guilherme a task for us to do together. She was building something really big, and we didn't know what to do, so we went to play at my house. we had several ideas but none of them were as good as building a soccer field. so we went there in an abandoned field and rebuilt it. it was wonderful, we took pictures and played football with our other friends. We took 10. We were super happy, we are the best friends forever.

on a boy's first day of school he didn't have friends. he was always alone, and very sad, because he had no one to play with or talk to. One day he shouted: - does anyone want to be my friend? but nobody answered he cried so much that he never wanted to go to school again. One day his mother threw a surprise party for him, and he invited all his friends, and everyone accepted. They had a lot of fun and the boy talked a lot. everyone became friends, and he was known as the chatterbox.

one day on my birthday in 2017, when i was 7 years old, a friend of mine gave me a very crazy skate. I was very happy, I walked all over him. she was happy that I loved what she gave. I never left that skateboard, and my friend and I became very close friends.

www.insconia.com.br

there was once a giant dragon. he was 100% elemental, he was very cute too. one day 15 different enemy troops came to attack my castle. I was very afraid that they would loot everything and kill me. but the dragon defended me almost to the death. he was so good to me that i spent all my money on a dragon vet. today he is my mascot and my eternal defender.

