

A thick red vertical bar runs along the left edge of the page. A thin horizontal line extends from the right edge of this bar across the top of the page.

Dreams

Dreams

Since we were kids, we dream always to know a different country , to know new places.

When we met each other we identify it ,we made plans to live together , and we will live in Lisbon .

Today we imagine ourselves there , millionaires and happy with new friends ,busy life ,pretty much everything , our dreams and plans are still forwarding , we are studying to achieve our goals .

We have faith in god that we can ,if we were rich of course it would be easier , but as weare lacking money , the fight is great .

