

the dogs

Por: bruno e olaf

Boxer

Origin: Germany

Particular skills: Dog Company, guide dog, watchdog and advocacy

Life expectancy: 11 years

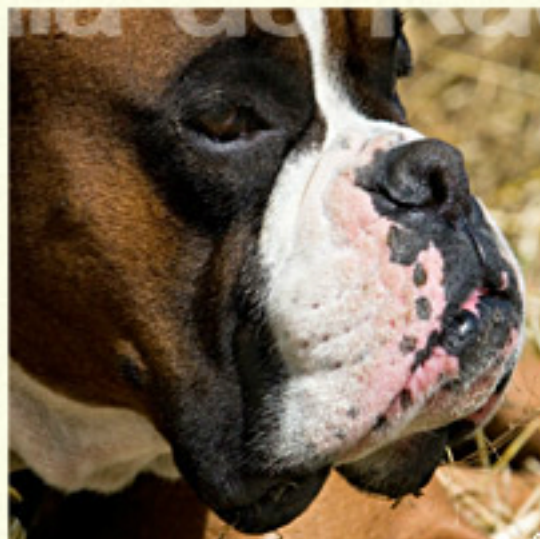

Size male: 57 - 63 cm.

Male Weight: 28 - 32 kg approx.

Female size: 53 - 59 cm.

Female Weight: 28-32 kg approx

A beautiful dog work and exposure, the boxer has become very popular in recent decades, largely for its outstanding value, both in defense tasks as protection.

A beautiful dog work and exposure, the boxer has become very popular in recent decades, largely for its outstanding value, both in defense tasks as protection.

In this race, the harmony of forms is not separate multiple gifts of intelligence and character.

The Boxer is kind, sensitive, athletic, curious, fun, hardworking, calm, intelligent and known to be brave. The Boxer is known to have a body with beautiful symmetry, their well-defined muscles seem to be sculpted to perfection, supporting his head expressive and unique. Having a Boxer will keep you entertained and in shape and protected. The Boxer has a real personality and a passion for life.

German Shepherd

One of the best breeds of large dogs is a German Shepherd, it is very docile with its owner and at the same time, aloof to strangers, come to serve as a watchdog.

The German Shepherd is also easily trained. One example is its widespread use in the kennels of the Military Police.

If you looking for a great dog to play with the kids and simultaneously monitor the environment, the German Shepherd is one of the best races for this. The herding dogs demonstrate courage, intelligence and combativeness. Moreover, they are strong, fast, and especially resistant to long walks and interperies.

The German Shepherd is one of the breeds most complete in existence. Highly intelligent, obedient, brave and responsible, this dog has been playing effectively the most varied tasks: from keeper of the guard dog, rescue, company, exposure, police, movie star, messenger.

The German Shepherd dog is not a fashion. For more than a century is a race in a constant process and genetic improvement, worldwide.

germany dog

The dogue German stands out for its expressive head and does not reveal any nervousness, even in major affective manifestations.

The dogue German meets his noble appearance of robust constitution and well delineated, ferocity, strength and elegance.

<http://www.infoescola.com>
<http://www.guiaderacas.com.br/pastoralemao.shtml>
<http://www.pastoralemao.info>
<http://www.guiaderacas.com.br/doguealemao.shtml>
<http://www.guiaderacas.com.br/boxer.shtml>
http://www.saudeanimal.com.br/dogue_alemao.htm
<http://www.101caes.com/racas-caes-boxer.html>