

breeds of dogs

Por: Patrícia e Nicole

Poodle

The poodle is a breed of dog with French origin and it is considered a dog company, it is called in French Caniche and in German pudeln, is considered the second most intelligent race in the world. These dogs were bred to work in the water, having one of its trims designed to protect against the cold in their most delicate areas like the legs. The physical varies between 32 and 2.5 kg, measuring 25 cm to more than 38. His fur has different colors and can be curled. The Longevity is nearly fifteen years, the highest among all dogs, they may have eye problems such as blindness. The poodle was considered a luxury dog and a star in circuses. It is an affectionate, cheerful, docile, obedient and easy training dog.

Fonte: www.portaldopoodle.com.br

São Bernardo

The St. Bernard is a breed of large dogs, natural Alps. Members of the group are working dogs and are considered watchdogs and rescue.

digite aqui

hyu4444444444444444444444

digite aqui

uj6yyyyyyyyyyyyyy

digite aqui

ju6////////

digite aqui

uooooooooooooooooo

digite aqui

j766666666666666