

Pokédex dos cachorros

Por: igorearthur

Yorkshire Terrier

Origins: Yorkshire, England. This area is known for producing good animals, Yorkshire didn't surge for accident, it was result of the crossing of Airedale Terrier, the Clydesdale Terrier , Paisley Terrier, of the Black British wirehaired Terrier and Tan Terrier.

About weight: In England his weight is in turn of 3 to 7 pounds, in our country his weight is in turn of 1.4kg to 3.2kg.

About color: Silky blue, tan coat, black/blue coat and blue saddle.

Other information: It isn't a war dog, it lives in turn of 13 to 16 years, his nickname is Yorkie.

Curiosities

Do you know that a pokémon have been made based in yorkshire?

Yeah, his name is "Herdier" it just very look like yorkshire terrier.

Dachshund

Origins: German breeders

Normal size: they have three normal sizes: standart, miniature and kanichen.

Weight: the full growl standart dachshund weighs from 7.3kg to 15kg, the miniature size normally weighs less than 5.4kg and the kanichen weighs from 3.6kg to 5kg.

About the color: they can be single-colored, single-colored with spots ("dappled"-called "merle" in other dog breeds), and single-colored with tan points plus any pattern.

Other information: light-colored dachshunds can sport amber, light brown, or green eyes; however, kennel club standards state that the darker the eye color, the better. They can also have eyes of two different colors. Dachshunds can have a blue and a brown eye. They are playful, but can stubborn.

Curiosities

The Dachshund is a protector dog, a dog that protect his/her owner.

It's is a very cute and peaceful dog!

Beagle

Origins: Dogs of similar size and purpose to the modern Beagle can be traced in Ancient Greece back to around the 5th century BC.

About his name: the origin of the word "beagle" is uncertain, although it has been suggested that the word derives from the French begueule.

About the colors: beagles appear in a range of colours. Although the tricolour (white with large black areas and light brown shading) is the most common, Beagles can occur in any hound colour.

Other information: beagles were developed primarily for hunting hare, an activity known as beagling. The typical longevity of Beagles is 10–13 years.

Curiosities

The Beagle dog was used in the famous movie "Underdog" They used a Beagle to be the Underdog, a superhero who always save the day from the evil forces!