

Dog's Life

Por: Amanda M. e Raquel O.

Shih tzu

That dog and cheerful companion has his name with the meaning "lion dog". According to stories, the shih tzu was born at the crossroads of a lhasa apso with a Pekingese.

The shih tzu beyond a friendly dog can be a protector dog instead his little side.

Curious

Normally dogs of this breed reach a height of 23cm to 27cm and can weigh 4 kg to 8kg.

The color of the hair can vary but usually have a white band on the forehead and tail.

The shih tzu often possesses the longhaired and smooth, which makes the owners have the habit of daily brushings, lest we make big and end up hurting the dog.

Golden Retriever

The Golden Retriever is an intelligent and obedient dog, but that is quite lively and cheerful.

The colors of the coat does not vary much, usually a shade of gold or cream. They have a large size and can reach 61 cm.

The weight of a dog of this breed can become 31 kg.

Curious

It can be very cold, but the golden retriever is crazy about water, no wonder he was made for hunting waterfowl.

The name came from Britain.

With a great flair, this dog is often used by fire brigades and rescue the world.

St. Bernard

The St. Bernard is part of a group of working dogs. It is considered a dog rescue and save.

The minimum height of a Saint Bernard is 65 cm and its weight can vary: if your at is shorter can weigh 75 kg and if the is a little longer weigh up to 100 kg.

Curious

St. Bernard dogs do not like to stay in dirty places, so try to make your needs in locations distant from the site where they feed.

Like any large dog, your metabolism is slow, so he does not eat much proportionately. A good quality food is all he needs.