

dog

Por: Sr.paulo

chow chow

fonte:http://www.suapesquisa.com/cachorros/chow_chow.htm

PHYSICAL

- This dog race has height ranging from 45 to 50 cm.
- They have rounded ears and wide head.
- One of the most striking physical characteristics of the breed is the presence of long hair on the head, resembling a lion's mane.
- The language of chow-chows is bluish.
- The coat of this breed is smooth, tough and dense.
- The most common colors are: black, cream, reddish brown and tan.
- It is a breed of Chinese origin.

BEHAVIOUR AND TEMPERAMENT:

- It has a docile behavior (when treated well), but it is necessary for the owner to do a job socialization (with people and other animals).
- They have a rebellious nature and do not accept disrespectful attitudes.
- It is a breed of dog very independent and intelligent.
- It's hard to be a dog trained.
- It is affectionate, but shows little this feeling.
- When you want warmth, usually put his paw under the head or licking the owner.
- They have the hunting instinct. In the city, can hunt mice, birds or other small animals.
- They tend to bark while, but priate bark is because something is wrong.

pastor alemão

fonte:http://www.suapesquisa.com/cachorros/pastor_alemao.htm

PHYSICAL

- The German shepherd measuring, on average, 60 to 70 cm in height.
- It has medium sized ears, face up.
- The German Shepherd snout is long.
- The tail is long and large amount of hair.
- The most common color is light brown with black bull in the back.

BEHAVIOUR AND TEMPERAMENT:

- The German Shepherd is an easy breed to be trained, it is very clever.
- Widely used as a guard dog.
- Very agile, fast and smart.
- It has a well developed sense of smell, being used in the rescue of buried bodies or search for drugs or weapons.
- When properly trained is very obedient.
- Has ability to learn commands and guidelines on specific training.
- The German Shepherd is an excellent dog for company.
- Has a prolonged barking. Important to warn that something wrong is happening.
- Because of these qualities is widely used by the police in several countries.

Bulldogue Inglês

fonte:http://www.suapesquisa.com/cachorros/bulldogue_ingles.htm

PHYSICAL

- The breed dogs English bulldog have, on average, from 40 to 55 cm in height.
- The weight ranges from 20 to 30 kg.
- It's a race of bearing strong, muscular and stocky.
- They have small ears, wide mouth and strong jaws and wide.
- The muzzle is short and flat.
- The most common colors of this species can be white or white with light brown.
- They have a short neck, but very thick and firm.
- They have short hair, smooth and fine in texture.

BEHAVIOUR AND TEMPERAMENT:

- The Bulldogs have fame and appearance (physiognomy) of wild dogs. However, they are very friendly, happy and love to play. Attack, to defend themselves, only when they are attacked with violence.
- It is a very stubborn breed of dog.
- It is a very intelligent breed and very loyal to its owner.
- They have little need for physical activities. They fit easily in small environments. However, like all breeds of dogs need daily walks case dwell in apartments.
- If well trained, have characteristics of excellent hygiene and obedience.
- Great dog for company, usually integrate easily into familiar surroundings.