

Everything About Bulldogs and Shih Tzus

Por: Júlia Barros e Ana Horvath

The Shih Tzu's life expectative is from twelve to sixteen years and they have around three puppies per pregnancy. They are the ideal breed for city and country, although they love to run around the field they are small and fragile so they need to stay at home even at the country.

The Shih Tzus are from Tibet where they were kept inside the temples as frighten dogs, is known that they were occasionally given to China's Emperors as an honor tribute. They were also considered a good luck sign and were assambled as little lions for their names mean Lion.

Shih Tzus are very happy, funny and joyfull they are also very good with children. However they can be very desobedient sometimes.

Shih Tzus are small and can be o any color however the most wanted are the ones that have the forehead and the tip of the tale white.

Their fur is long at the top and dense at the bottom, they have big rounded eyes, making them look loyal and friendly. There are different colors but the most wanted are the ones with the forehead and the tip of tale white. Also there are two known type of Shih Tzus, the American one wich looks like royalty they are mighty for their legs are longer; and there is the Europinian one that has smaller paws and legs.

The French Bulldog is original from France, it's fur is short smooth shinny straight. It is a great dog to keep you company, it's life expectative years. It is also a small dog that can weight untill 14 kg.

They are very smart calm and happy dogs, therefore lots of attention is needed by them. However don't over exercise your little dog, it is very heavy and can get tired really fast.

This type of dog is always friendly with everyone, they can be hyper sometimes with guests but altogether they are very calm dogs. They are not the type of dogs to bark every second of the day, only when needed and they soon stop when the warning was

There is a variety of colors shapes and fur patterns, wich are yet to be defined. When they are changing their teeth they can get really mischievous but nothing a pair of adequated toys and attention from the family can't solve.

However they are not one of the most obedient breed ou there, therefore it can be very hard to educate them, but when they finally learn the lesson it is forever, surely

The Frenchies, as they are popularly called, has small noses therefore they can't feel hot, their fur doesn't need to be cut and their lines must be washed but not left damp.
