

The dogs of my life

Por: Iane & Amanda

PUG

Pug is a breed of small dogs and very cute! They are very attached to their owners.

The head of the Pug is the most unique feature and typical of the breed. It should be round when you look at the front and muzzle completely boring when looked from the side. A Pug's eyes are round, dark, expressive and full of life. Their ears are tuned to the head, should be black. The wrinkles on the head of a Pug should be deep and easy to see, because in them the color is darker than outside. There should be a big wrinkle over your nose.

Quite faithful to the owner, it is easily one inseparable companion. Actually, it follows you everywhere even uninvited. The Pug shows up extremely sociable and quickly.

This race has a different characteristic that it is the barking. It's a sound that, much like a snore, has a range that seems the dog was choking. However.

The positive characteristics of dogs are: They are very affectionate, but no symptoms of excessive grace. They are intelligent and playful. Get along well with others. Small spending petshops. Bark very little. Do not need a lot of physical activity. Get along well with other pets. Love lap. They are small and quiet. Are clean. They like children. They like seniors.

The negative characteristics are: they suffer from high temperatures. His eyes are very sensitive, being exposed and bulging. The price is high. Has little physical resistance. Need special care with skin. By very loose, requiring frequent brushing. Has tendency to gain weight. Snore enough. It's a dog maintenance difficult and high priced.

CHOW CHOW

The Chow Chow is also a race that attracts the beauty and cuteness, especially when young. But it is also a breed that requires some experience of the owner, due to his temperament.

Worthy, even noble air through the Chow Chow behave with discretion. He is not very expressive, even with your family, and can be very suspicious of strangers. He is independent and stubborn. The Chow Chow is serious and protective, devoted to his family.

This is a breed always alert and needs moderate activities outdoors regularly. He does not feel well in hot and humid climates. He is pleased with walks in the morning or late in the afternoon on days not too hot or with a sequence of

The best known feature and famous chow chow is the fact that he has a purple tongue.

This breed is of Chinese origin.

One of the most striking physical characteristics of the breed is the presence of long hair on the head, resembling a lion's mane.

Usually some barking, but priate bark is because something is wrong.

When they want affection, usually put his paw under the head or licking the owner.

They have a rebellious nature and do not accept disrespectful attitudes.

St Bernard

It is considered a watchdog and rescue. It is a strong dog, well arched chest and broad shoulders.

It is an excellent companion who adores children. Respects its owner, is faithful and devoted to his family. It is very quiet and likes company.

Contrary to what many may think, the Saint Bernard dog is not difficult to maintain. Despite need daily exercise, even after adult, he doesn't need much space. A good daily walk on a leash will bring the optimal dose of exercise for the dog that does not have much space at home. For children, it is a great friend. Always very humorous, loves a good joke.

Make new friends easily, but in the absence of its owner, the Saint Bernard tends to defend its territory, looking away any person outside the home.

This breed originates whisker.

There are two variations of the breed, the Saint Bernards of the long and the short of.

Although dogs are large, there are no problems in raising them in small spaces, provided they are made and regular daily tours, which usually already supply the demand for exercise of dogs.

The St. Bernards do not like to be left alone, for it is not indicated that they are kept in the backyard. Copies of the race show yet unintelligent, which requires a lot of patience from their owners and discipline.

Source:

www.tudosobrecachorros.com.br

<http://www.dogdogs.net/sao-bernardo-padrao-da-raca-caracteristicas-curiosidades-e-fotos/>

www.google.com.br/imagens