

A small, fluffy brown dog, possibly a Papillon or similar breed, is sitting and looking upwards. It is wearing white earbuds with a white cord. The background is plain white.

Mini Dogs Larousse

Por: Ana leticia e Amanda

AKITA

Protective, wise, loving and brave. The Akita is excellent for children to be very patient. Late bit, never barks unnecessarily, howls usually need something and is very confident. It is possessive of their territory and their owners, which makes this breed excellent guardian of both property and personal.

It is very worried and attached to the owner, as being "a dog owner only" (which does not mean that it can not be adopted now grown), but suffers greatly when abandoned and sometimes can not adapt to the new owners. However, once achieved will be an excellent guardian and companion for

Bedlington Terrier

He has the appearance of a lamb, but the courage and strength of a wolf. Behind this face is hidden sheep tame a temper brave and decided that in the past helped to make race an accomplished hunter enviable combativeness.

He appeared in the region of Northumberland, England, more precisely in the county miner Bedlington, from where it derives its name. There, he was used as a hunting dog, specifically to exterminate the rats mines. Thanks to very strong teeth, the sense of smell, fast reflexes and great courage of the race, she played this task with the greatest perfection.

Pequinês

Probably originating from Tibet, the Pekingese was for centuries the favorite animal of the Chinese emperors, which prevented their export.

It's a small dog, well balanced and brave. their appearance is unfair, is independent and is able to defend itself alone.

A typical aristocrat of some perks essential to your well being, is very affectionate with whoever comes, because it is the Pekingese that chooses its owner, a dog is loyal and obedient but firm temperament and a little stubborn. Affable, but suspicious of strangers.

The qualities of the Pekingese alia certain degree of intelligence. Is attentive, playful and affectionate. Indoors intrudes at all. We must, however, be careful with your eyes, which are

Kuvasz

The kuvasz, a dog loyal, determined and well balanced temperament. It has been used for centuries as guard flocks and companionship.

It is an excellent working dog, keeps up with the herd to protect animals. Resistant, kuvasz can withstand extreme weather conditions.

It is a large dog, active, both strong and light steps, which makes it very elegant. The puppies are playful and adult dog is calmer, late only if necessary.

It is a race that is always alert, and is able to move with great agility, elasticity and lightness, being able to travel long distances.

Bichon Frise

Of French origin, the bichon frise is a friendly small dog, cheerful, lively and docile.

His coat is white, long, soft, curly hair. It can reach a length of up to 10 cm in some parts of the body. The eyes are dark, more rounded than almond. The ears are droopy and well covered with fine hairs and frizzy. The size of the Bichon Frise should not exceed 30 cm., Measured in height at the withers.

The race has all the qualities of a good apartment dog. No loose hair, loves the company of family size is small, and does not require large spaces. However, it is a breed that has a lot of willingness and need to exercise regularly. The Bichon adapts easily to smaller spaces, but it is important to note that it has a lot of energy and need a reasonable dose of daily exercise.